3. OUR SERVICES

3.1. The following Services are available to Merchants and Customers through Website

- 3.1.1. Payment processing in Virtual Assets;
- 3.1.2. Virtual Asset Custody;
- 3.1.3. Mass payouts in Virtual Assets;
- 3.1.4. Virtual Asset-to fiat exchange (fiat withdrawal);
- 3.1.5. Wrong Assets Auto-processing;
- 3.1.6. Push Feature for Stuck Payments

FD Transfers LLC provides a 'Push' function that allows Merchants to initiate payment processing on their end in case a particular payment gets stuck in the system and cannot be finished without additional actions. This functionality is available both in the FD Transfers LLC personal account interface and via API.

By using the Push feature, either by clicking the button in the personal account or using the API endpoint, the Merchant automatically confirms their agreement with the exchange rate shown at the time of the action.

Transactions continued using this method are subject to the same acceptable rate deviance rules as all other exchanges. This means that the exchange rate may fluctuate during the process, and the transaction may be paused again if the rate falls outside the acceptable range. FD Transfers LLC reserves the right to modify or suspend the Push feature at any time to maintain the integrity and security of our services.

3.2. Please note that these Services could be provided by Third Parties.

4. PAYMENT PROCESSING IN VIRTUAL ASSETS

- 4.1. Payment processing tools in Virtual Assets are as follows: (1) API payment creation, (2) payment link creation, (3) payment creation.
- 4.2. Upon receiving the aforementioned link, the Customer proceeds to access and navigate the provided link. The Customer sees the designated deposit address, as well as the corresponding currency for payment. Please note, that this deposit address is generated by Third Party service provider at the time of the transaction. Third Party service provider takes part in a mono-currency exchange, whereby the payout address corresponds to the Merchant's balance or their designated wallet.
- 4.3. Generated deposit addresses are initially designed for a single use. Merchants and Customers acknowledge that such addresses are intended for one-time deposits only. Any attempts to use such addresses for subsequent transactions are at Merchants and Customers own risk.
- 4.4. Merchant initiates a payment request by its generation, which may be in the form of an invoice link or a simplified payment request, solely indicating the payment address and the corresponding amount. The payment request shall include essential transaction details, such as the transaction amount, currency of transaction and the Order ID. Please note that the Order ID is an optional field in the payment process. The Merchant retains the discretion to decide whether to include an Order ID for tracking and reference purposes.
 - 4.4.1. Additionally, Merchant reserves the right to freeze rate (by marking the "Fixed Rate" button) and determine the party responsible for covering the associated commission expenses (by marking the "Fee paid by user" button).
 - 4.4.2. Please note that for blockchain technology, network fees are subject to change. If a deposit is transferred more than 20 minutes after your Payment Link was created, Third Party service provider cannot guarantee that the network fees will not affect the amount of cryptocurrency You will receive.
- 4.5. Upon confirmation of the transaction in the blockchain, the funds of Customer are successfully credited to the designated deposit address. Subsequently, following confirmation in the blockchain, processing takes place. Once processing is successfully completed, the funds are promptly displayed on the Merchant's balance or deposited into your designated wallet. At this point, the Customer can verify that the funds have been successfully transferred to the Merchant.

- 4.6. We would like to remind You that until You receive the status "Finished / Partially paid" from FD Transfers LLC's service provider, crediting funds to your Customer's balance is done at your own risk. 5.1.3. By enabling the Wrong Assets Auto-processing feature, the Merchant acknowledges and accepts all associated risks, including potential discrepancies between the expected and received payment amounts due to exchange rate fluctuations.

5.1.4. FD Transfers LLC shall not be held liable for any losses or discrepancies resulting from the use of this feature.

6. REPEATED DEPOSITS

6.1. Repeated deposits will always be allocated to the original payout wallet address regardless of any subsequent changes made by the Merchant or Customer within their account settings. This means that even if the Merchant or Customer update their payout wallet address in their account(s) after the creation of the original deposit, all repeated deposits will still be directed to the wallet address used in the original deposit.

6.2. Generated deposit addresses are initially designed for a single use. Merchants and Customers acknowledge that such addresses are intended for one-time deposits only. Any attempts to use such addresses for subsequent transactions are at Merchants and Customers own risk.

- 6.3. FD Transfers LLC is indemnified from any liability for the misdirection or loss of funds of repeated deposits. Merchants and Customers acknowledge that they fully understand the mechanics of deposit handling and the implications for repeated deposits when utilizing the repeated deposit service offered in the Website.
